

GDPR and sharing data

Whenever you are working with personal data you do have to use GDPR compliant data sharing tools:

GDPR Compliant applications

- Surf drive surfdrive-store-and-share-your-files-securely-in-the-cloud
- Surf Research drive researchdrive
- VRE (Virtual Research Environment) vre
- STRW sftp (You need an STRW account for this)
- STRW https disclosure via personal or project websites

When you are using non-personal data and data that is not proprietary, so data that is open access, you can use non-GDPR compliant tools:

GDPR non-compliant applications

- Google Drive drive
- Dropbox www.dropbox.com
- WeTransfer wettransfer.com
- STRW anon-ftp anonymous_ftp

You are personally responsible for using the correct tool for your science data.

From:

<https://helpdesk.physics.leidenuniv.nl/wiki/> - Computer Documentation Wiki

Permanent link:

<https://helpdesk.physics.leidenuniv.nl/wiki/doku.php?id=gdpr:data&rev=1606203969>

Last update: 2020/11/24 07:46

